Corra may be a tripod, but that in no way inhibits her sweet, affectionate nature. She lost her right rear leg to a devastating racing injury, but don't tell her. She's a pro at zipping around the yard and rushing to be the first in line for treats. Please don't overlooking this sweetheart because she's missing a leg. She more than makes up for it with her joie d vivre.

Maisy came to us from GPA Emerald Coast on Aug. 28 shortly after breaking the calcaneus of his right rear leg. That's a classic injury for a racing greyhound.

In Memphis he underwent surgery to plate the injury. Since then, he's had his sutures out and is feeling considerably better. We're waiting for the leg to heal and he should be available for adoption by late December

Hey, I'm Niki and I'm looking for a home. I was one of those Mobile dogs. We came to Nashville in August after the track down there closed permanently. I'm beginning to get a bit discouraged since lots of the hounds I rode up here with have already been adopted. I mean, what am I? Chopped liver? I'm cute, I just turned 3 so I'm not crazy young but am lots of fun
